INDUSTRY UPDATES

India generates record power as demand surges in severe heatwave

India's power producers achieved a record electricity generation as a severe heatwave grips the nation. Peak power demand hit an all-time high for the fourth consecutive day, reaching 270.82 gigawatts on Thursday, successfully met by the grid.

India ranks 3rd globally in installed renewable energy capacity

A new report by Morgan Stanley says India's renewable energy transition will help reduce external dependence, but its success will depend on how quickly the country localises critical segments such as solar cells, wafers, and polysilicon.

Conservation has high potential if deployed as a strategic mission

Resilience takes more than policy. People and enterprises create it by the small choices they make. That is what turns conservation into a strategy and strengthens India's growth story.

Report pegs India's industrial decarbonization market at $100 billion

The report highlights that despite the scale of opportunity, industrial decarbonization in India remains significantly undercapitalised, with funding levels estimated at around 40 per cent of those seen in developed economies.

World Bank outlines how Carbon pricing can support Net-zero development plans

A new World Bank-led report urges governments to integrate carbon pricing and international carbon markets into long-term climate and economic planning to turn ambitious net-zero targets into practical action.
